

Jenn Poliseno has resided in West Newbury since 2009 after owning two homes in Amesbury for 10 years prior. Her and her husband Dominic live on Middle Street with their son Jake and a crazy jack Russell terrier and love the quiet understated beauty that our town offers. As a real estate specialist for 7 years in addition to being a second time homeowner in town, ensuring the fair market value of West Newbury homes is paramount to Jenn on both on a personal and professional level.
